How to get started:

The first step for an organizer is to complete the date application online at: The Organizer's Omnibus Portal. The process starts with the competition name and date section, followed by different options for competition fee payment. Once payment has been verified, the rest of the online form can be filled out and saved. The ADS office will then post the event to our online calendar: americandrivingsociety.org/Events-Resources/Organizers/Organizer-Omnibus - click on the date application link.

Complete instructions for completing a date application/ Omnibus form:

2. You will then need to log in or register, depending on whether you have ever used the online Omnibus system before.

3. On the next page, click the blue bar that says: "Start a Date Application".

Note: Is your show dual-recognized by ADS and USEF? Email us at info@americandrivingsociety.org well in advance of your event so we can help address our mutual insurance needs.

4. Fill out all the information on that page and click next. This will take you to a payment page where you pay for the Date Application.

5. The ADS office will receive notification of payment, will mark the Date Application approved electronically, and place the event on the ADS Calendar.

Your next step is to start the Omnibus submission. It is wise to have chosen your officials before

Non-Member Fees, Explained

All drivers at ADS-recognized events must be current ADS members or pay the required non-member fee.

Non-member fees are as follows:

- $30 for all Combined Driving Events, Driving Trials, Pleasure Driving Shows, and Combined Tests offered at those events.
- $15 for Arena Trials, Driving Derbies, Recreational Drives and Combined Tests offered at those events.

An ADS Non-Member Credit Voucher is used as a receipt to acknowledge that the money received from a non-member fee may offset the cost of a current year ADS membership.

The ADS is a 501c3 dedicated to the future of carriage driving and carriage driving competition. Since 1974 the ADS has operated primarily through its member volunteers—members helping members. Come drive with us and have FUN driving your equines!
